

CSUP Graduate Education Course Syllabus

Positive Teaching for Today's Classroom

ED 501 CLDE

Catalog Description:

This course will present writing techniques and self-talk language that goes beyond the superficial educational phrases or clichés used in schools. Instead of the shallow self-esteemology theory that misleads students into fleeting feelings, it presents the concept of right thinking and the truth about who we really are. Teachers will learn to write and use positive affirmations that are meaningful as well effective in shaping human behavior. They will also be exposed to new ways of thinking regarding the miss-programming of our minds by media and society as well as how the brain works. Educators will teach students to take responsibility for their thinking and behavior as well as having a positive attitude. Teachers will research this topic, develop lessons or a project and a written essay explaining how the course content can be implemented personally and, in the classroom and schools. 3 Credits

Credit Hours: ED 501: This three-credit ED 501 course uses a face-to-face/hybrid/synchronous online/asynchronous online, format and will require a total of 112.5 hours of student effort as shown in the Course requirements section as well.

Course Format: Distance learning, independent Study Grad Course for working teacher license renewals.

Required Text: Beyond Positive Thinking: Getting the Results You Want by Robert Anthony. 2007 Garden City, NY: Morgan James. 287 pages.

Course Objectives:

1. Educators will recognize how to go beyond only positive thinking to develop “right thinking” and realize the responsibility, power and truth about ourselves and the potential we possess.
2. Teachers will analyze myths from the collective culture and misinformation about superficial positive thinking and show how to take self-talk affirmations to a higher and more effective level.
3. Educators will apply the use of writing techniques and introspection skills for developing effective positive affirmations and self-talk for speaking and writing assignments for school and classroom use.
4. Students will understand how to use quality positive affirmations in their instruction to improve their instructional delivery and writing as well as student empowerment and personal success.
5. Teachers will create and develop writings, lessons and affirmations for classroom use and student applications in their school and social experiences as well as for their own personal effectiveness.

Late Work: They are late if not completed within 6 months after Registration. Late assignments will receive a 20% reduction. An “F” grade will be posted if the course work is not completed on time.

Incomplete Grades: Incomplete Grades will be handled according to the University Catalog. If an incomplete grade is issued, the student, instructor, and Associate Dean will develop an agreement for the terms of the incomplete and sign it.

Student Conduct: Students are required to follow the policies set within the Student Code of Conduct at CSU Pueblo. This Code can be found on the Student Affairs website at <https://www.csupueblo.edu/student-affairs/student-conduct/index.html>. Students with question regarding any guidelines within the Code should contact the Director of Student Conduct and Case Management at 719-549-2092.

Accommodations: Colorado State University-Pueblo abides by the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which stipulates that no student shall be denied the benefits of an education "solely by reason of a handicap." If you have a documented disability that may impact your work in this class and for which you may require accommodations, please see the Disability Resource & Support Center as soon as possible to arrange accommodations. In order to receive accommodations, you must be registered with and provide documentation of your disability to the Disability Resource & Support Center, which is located in the Library and Academic Resources Center, Suite 169.

Academic Dishonesty: Academic dishonesty is any form of cheating which results in students giving or receiving unauthorized assistance in an academic exercise or receiving credit for work which is not their own. In cases of academic dishonesty, the instructor will inform the chair of the department prior to implementation of punitive action. Academic dishonesty is grounds for disciplinary action by both the instructor and the Dean of Student Services and Enrollment Management. Any student judged to have engaged in academic dishonesty may receive a failing grade for the work in question, a failing grade for the course, or any other lesser penalty which the instructor finds appropriate. To dispute an accusation of academic dishonesty, the student should first consult with the instructor. If the dispute remains unresolved, the student may then state his or her case to the department chair (or the dean if the department chair is the instructor of the course).

Mandatory Reporting: Colorado State University-Pueblo is committed to maintaining respectful, safe, and nonthreatening educational, working, and living environments. As part of this commitment, and in order to comply with federal law, the University has adopted a Policy on Discrimination, Protected Class Harassment, Sexual Misconduct, Intimate Partner Violence, Stalking, & Retaliation. You can find information regarding this policy, how to report violations of this policy, and resources available to you, on the Office of Institutional Equity's website (www.csupueblo.edu/institutional-equity).

Institutional Equity Statement

CSU Pueblo is committed to equal educational and employment opportunities and to the elimination of all forms of Discrimination, Protected Class Harassment, and Retaliation. Any campus community member in need of support, resources, or guidance is welcome to contact the Office of Institutional Equity and Title IX Coordinator via email at nicole.ferguson@csupueblo.edu, phone 719-549- 2210, or in person at LARC 187.
